

Testifies Gas Valued Only in Rate Hearings

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. witness said today that to his knowledge no value is placed on gas the company produces until the question comes up in a rate case.

Edward N. Henderson, an Ark. vice president and the chief engineer, said the company produces the gas and turns it into the distribution system without setting a price.

The value which Arkla should be allowed for its own gas is an issue in the Public Service Commission hearing on the company's $1.2 million rate increase.

Henderson was questioned by El Dorado City Attorney J. V. Spencer on behalf of a group of cities protesting the increase, which Arkla instituted last April. The cities want the PSC to nullify the rate boost.

By Arkansas law a gas utility is allowed to charge itself in rate-making a price for its gas equivalent to that it would have had to pay for gas from another producer in the same area.

This is designated the fair field price. A higher fair field price could result in higher rates.

In the current case, Arkla says its fair field price, based on 1960 operations, should be 18.7 per 1,000 cubic feet.

The cities contend the rate should be 2.4 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

Henderson took the witness stand Thursday afternoon and testified today. He followed J. E. Platters, Jefferson City, Mo., rate consultant, whom Spencer excused after having cross-examined for four days.

Thursday Spencer and PSC Chairman Lewis Robinson exchanged heated words over the method by which a fair-field price should be determined.

Robinson said the method followed by the commission in a 1955 Arkla rate case had been superseded by a 1957 law. Spencer argued that the best way to determine the value of the gas from Arkla's own wells was the 1955 version.

"I don't care if it is the best method or the worst method," Robinson said. "We have to follow the method set out in the law."

Then Spencer said the 1957 law was passed at the request of Arkla after the Supreme Court had nullified the 1955 PSC decision.

Arkla says the 1955 method is no longer fair because the price of gas has been going up.

Session May Be Called August 21

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he will call a special session of the legislature for Aug. 21 if the Legislative Council finishes its work today.

Faubus said the only thing which would make him change the date would be if the council extends its discussions of how to divide surplus revenue into next week.

There was some talk at today's council meeting of another session next Tuesday.

The council will make recommendations to the legislature on how available money should be split to meet construction needs, urged by the various institutions and agencies at $90 million.

The council will ask the legislature to choose one of two plans to add to the available money. All that is currently on hand is $11.7 million in surplus funds.

Faubus said the Aug. 21 date should enable the legislators to complete work before Sept. 1.

Faubus had said previously the special session probably could be held in late August.

ALC Hopeful for Help in Legislature

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Legislative Council, hoping the legislature will adopt some plan to beef up construction funds, continues making appropriation recommendations as its fiscal hearings near an end.

Thursday, the council examined $10,300,000 to go to various state agencies, and asked the governor to forward to the legislature two plans for augmenting state construction money.

The state has only $11.7 million in surplus revenues. The council hopes the legislature will either adopt a $17 million construction fund for the states colleges, partly financed by a $10 million revenue bond issue, or divert $9.5 million from an operating reserve fund.

The council asked Gov. Orval E. Faubus to include both plans in the call he sends out for a special legislative session later this month. Both plans would require some juggling of state funds.

Included in the list of recommended appropriations Thursday was $6,048,440 to the State Hospital for a new multi-purpose building in Little Rock.

The others on the list: Blind and Deaf schools $1.5 million, McRae Sanatorium $504,820, Girls Training School (white) at Collegeville 200,000, Boys Training School (white) at Pine Bluff $100,000, Fargo Training School (Negro girls) $20,000, Wrightsville Negro Boys Industrial School nothing, Arkansas A&M College $150,000, Capital repairs and equipment replacement $135,000, Forestry Department $50,000.

Allocations were expected to be made today for the institutions for higher learning — perhaps for as much as $10 million. There still are many other agencies, including the Children's Colony, which have not been heard from.

The $150,000 for AM&N College is for repairs to its buildings. This is an emergency appropriation. The college still is in line for part of the extra millions to be divided among the colleges for new construction.

County judges asked Thursday for $4 million of the surplus for road building. The council voted 11 to 10 in favor of recommending that plan, but 13 votes were needed for passage.

The Council Thursday asked Faubus to include in his call a proposal on stabilization of milk prices. Testimony before the council said milk was being sold around the fringe of the state 10 to 15 cents a half-gallon cheaper than in central Arkansas.

The council went on record as favoring legislative authorization of construction of a new Revenue Building through a bond issue and diverting a $1.6 million for the project into the general fund.

Atty. Gen. Frank Holt cleared the way for such action with an opinion that a $1 charge for motor vehicle titles is a fee and not a tax. Pulaski Rep. Joel Y. Ledbetter said that if the charge was not ruled a tax, he would introduce legislation for a bond issue to finance the building.

Holt said the legislature cannot consider a revenue bond issue, but a new law could be approved authorizing issuance of the bonds.

Dormitory Plans

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Plans for a new dormitory to house 200 freshman women were approved Thursday by the University of Arkansas Board of Trustees. The low bid was $76,623 by Sweetser Construction Co. of Fayetteville.

San Pedro, Calif. (AP) — Charles Thomasset strolled down the pier at San Pedro harbor to work on his yacht, the Los Amigos.

Looking up, he saw the white-hulled, 50,000 vessel churning toward the harbor entrance.

By chance, two detectives were investigating a boat theft at the landing Thursday. They notified the Coast Guard, which informed a harbor patrol boat in the area. It stopped the Los Amigos.

Aboard were two teenage boys who told police they were headed for Honolulu and then the South Pacific to become "beachcombers." Jan Hornsby, 16, of West Los Angeles, and Geoff Chadwick, 15, of Los Angeles, had no money, no extra clothes—and no food. They were hooked on suspicion of grand theft.

They told officers they had stolen bicycles Wednesday and pedaled to the harbor to take a boat. They cased the yacht landing, they said, and picked out a vessel. But it was gone when they returned so they took the Los Amigos, a 45-foot schooner.

They told investigators they prepared for their journey by checking out two books from the San Pedro library.

On their way to the police station the boys directed officers to the place they had left the bicycles. But they were gone—apparently stolen.

Skip From Bicycles to Big Yacht

"I guess nobody's honest," one of the teen-agers said.

Keldysh said foreign newsmen will be permitted to watch launchings of Soviet space ships in the future but gave no indication when this would happen.

"You realize carrier rockets are not only peaceful instruments, and if the Americans had such advanced carrier rockets you can be sure they wouldn't be showing them either," he said.

The Soviet academician said Titov had demonstrated that a human pilot is able to control his ship.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, shouting its approval, has given President Kennedy a record peace-time defense budget, including about a billion dollars more than he asked.

By voice votes Thursday, House and Senate accepted a conference committee report on the $46.6-billion appropriation bill.

That completed action just 16 days after Kennedy asked for an additional $3.5 billion to strengthen conventional forces in the face of new Communist threats.

Congress voted an extra $25 million to continue production of B32 bombers, an additional $225 million to develop the 2,000-mile-an-hour B70 bomber—which the administration has cut back contending it would be superseded by missiles before it could become operational—and extra money for stepping up National Guard and reserve strength.

The bill also carried $207.6 million Kennedy requested for an intensified civil defense shelter program.

West Prepares Berlin Notes

BONN, Germany (AP) — The Western powers are preparing notes to Moscow on Berlin and Germany expressing willingness to enter negotiations in the problem but making no direct offers for talks, authoritative sources said today.

The notes would be an answer to Soviet notes of Aug. 3 suggesting talks but also making no specific proposals.

Final Rites for Ex-Hope Teacher

Miss Beatrice Prall, 72, a teacher in Hope for many years, died June 4 at the Presbyterian home at High Point, N. C. Funeral services were held June 5 in North Carolina. Services for the cremated remains will be held at 10 a. m. here Monday. Burial by Herndon-Cornelius will be in Rose Hill cemetery.

Survivors include two nieces, Mrs. Bill Boyd of Brentwood, Mo., and Mrs. Bert Hopkins of Manchester, Mo.

Spaceman Was Ejected From Ship

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov said today he was ejected from his space ship at the end of his epic 25-hour orbital flight and parachuted to earth.

The second Soviet spaceman told a jammed news conference his spaceship Vostok II came down separately by parachute "but if the need had arisen, I could have landed it myself."

Titov said there were two landing systems available—either to remain in the space ship and parachute down with it or to descend separately. He said he had permission to use either system.

"I felt well and decided to test the second landing system," he said.

The ship landed safely nearby, he added.

The space flier said he experienced no ill effects—from the acceleration forces, noise and vibration of the takeoff, from the prolonged weightlessness or from the transition from weightlessness near the end of his 17 trips the globe.

Titov said after landing neither he nor medical experts could detect any changes in his physical organism.

The self-assured young major reported one variation from normal. He said he wasn't hungry for his first two meals although he ate them on schedule.

"Frankly speaking I had no particular appetite," the 26-year-old cosmonaut said. "This was probably due to the sustained weightlessness and excitement."

Titov spoke at a news conference held at Moscow University for more than 1,500 Soviet and foreign newsmen, scientists and diplomats.

Mikhail Keldysh, president of the Soviet academy of sciences, introduced the Soviet Union's new space hero and said his 25-hour flight had produced a wealth of scientific information that will be published and shared with scientists all over the world.

The flight, Keldysh added, opened the way for manned flight "to Mars, the Moon, Venus, and even further into the depths of the universe."

Keldysh said foreign newsmen will be permitted to watch launchings of Soviet space ships in the future but gave no indication when this would happen.

"You realize carrier rockets are not only peaceful instruments, and if the Americans had such advanced carrier rockets you can be sure they wouldn't be showing them either," he said.

The Soviet academician said Titov had demonstrated that a human pilot is able to control his ship.

Rusk Reports No Schedule on Berlin Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the major Western powers all expect negotiations with Russia over Berlin but at this point have no timetable for such an East-West meeting.

After reporting personally to President Kennedy on the week-long consultations in Europe from which he returned Thursday night, Rusk told newsmen he had found "a high degree of unity among the Western Allies on the Berlin problem."

He minimized reports that France and the United States differ on the timing of any approach to the Soviets toward an East-West conference aimed at a peaceful solution of that crisis.

European reports had it that the United States proposes that the West take an early initiative while France believes no move toward negotiations should be made for some time.

Rusk said this is a matter "on which the gap may be more apparent than real."

He added "We all understand that negotiations will occur."

Rusk was reported encouraged not only over the signs of policy unity but over prospects of a military buildup by other NATO nations paralleling that ordered by Kennedy in this country.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk is expected to report to President Kennedy today that a week-long round of allied conferences in Europe substantially advanced Western diplomatic and military plans for defending West Berlin against the threat of a Soviet squeeze play.

Rusk returned to Washington late Thursday night from Paris.

Some Areas Have Heavy Rainfall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More rain fell across broad areas from the southern Plateau region into the Ohio Valley today, with heavy falls and possible flash floods in sections of the Midwest.

Rains during the morning in northeast Missouri and west central Illinois followed Thursday's downpours in southern and west central Illinois which caused flooding of rich lowland farm sections and homes.

Most widespread showers and rains during the night were in the eastern Great Lakes region and in the Ohio Valley. Strong winds and heavy rain hit the Indianapolis area. More than three inches of rain doused the Columbus, Ohio, area, and more than two inches in Dayton, Ohio, section.

Afternoon and evening showers were indicated in the warm and humid area in sections of the East and South as well as from the Far West into the Midwest.

Temperatures ranged from 95 at Blythe, Calif., to 52 at Dickinson, N.D.

Death Penalty Provision in Hijack Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today wrote a provision for the death penalty into a bill making airplane hijacking a federal crime.

An amendment adopted by voice vote would fix a minimum penalty of 20 years in prison and authorize life imprisonment or death.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., author of the amendment, said he felt a mandatory death penalty as some senators had proposed, would be too drastic.

The bill, which also would provide heavy penalties for other crimes in the skies, was brought up after the hijacking of a Pan American World Airways jetliner over Mexico Wednesday. The plane was forced to travel to Cuba, but Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government promptly ordered release of the plane, its passengers and crew.

President Kennedy announced at his news conference today that border patrolmen will be assigned to a number of planes to guard against new hijacking incidents.

Despite return of the plane, senators demanded stern action against the Castro regime following a series of incidents.

Sen. Thomas L. Kuchel, R-Calif., the assistant minority leader, said the time has come for an economic blockade of Cuba.

Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., said that "certainly as a great, powerful nation, we do not need to tolerate the insults and provocations that are presented to us by Fidel Castro."

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., Senate majority leader, appealed to his colleagues to pass the hijacking bill and leave the question of the general state of relations with Cuba in the hands of the President "where it belongs at this time."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said that although the plane was returned, there still remains the question of whether Cuba will turn over the hijacker to the United States for prosecution.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who cast one of the opposing votes, told reporters that the Senate might approve of the department this year but he thought chances would be better for action next session.

The proposed new department would concentrate on programs and problems of urban dwellers and take over control of the large federal housing programs now under the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The original administration bill was sharply revised by the Senate committee to emphasize that small towns and communities share in any of its programs and aid.

Thinks Allies Will Desert United States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Premier Khrushchev is reported to have told John J. McCloy, President Kennedy's disarmament adviser, he is convinced U.S. allies would not fight to hold West Berlin.

Khrushchev also was said to have scoffed at their present military strength in his July 25 session with McCloy.

McCloy gave a report on the talk Thursday to a closed meeting of the Senate Republican Policy Committee. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois declined to give details.

U. S. Send Cuba Note on Hijacking

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has sent Cuba a note on the subject of hijacked planes and ships, officials said today.

The note was given to the Swiss Thursday night for relay to Cuba. The Swiss handle U.S. affairs in Cuba in the absence of U.S.-Cuban diplomatic relations.

The American note answers one from Cuba which was in reply to a July 24 U.S. demand for release of the Eastern Air Lines plane hijacked to Havana.

The Cuban regime suggested exchanging the American airliner for a Cuban patrol boat in U.S. hands and an agreement that both sides return property hijacked in the future.

New Cabinet in Advances

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's request for a new Cabinet Department of Urban Affairs and Housing was sent to the Senate today with a 5-2 vote of approval by the Government Operations Committee.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who cast one of the opposing votes, told reporters that the Senate might approve of the department this year but he thought chances would be better for action next session.

The proposed new department would concentrate on programs and problems of urban dwellers and take over control of the large federal housing programs now under the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The original administration bill was sharply revised by the Senate committee to emphasize that small towns and communities share in any of its programs and aid.

Russia Going Ahead With E. German Treaty

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD
BERLIN (AP) — East Germany announced today that negotiations already are under way in Communist capitals for the German peace treaty demanded by Soviet Premier Khrushchev. Sterner measures were also promised to halt the tide of refugees through West Berlin.

The announcements were made to a special session of East Germany's Parliament in East Berlin by Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz and Deputy Premier Willy Stoph.

Parliament approved a resolution endorsing all measures already taken to stop the flight of refugees. The vote was unanimous, as always.

The resolution also welcomed the recent statement of the Communist Warsaw Pact countries calling for a peace treaty without delay. But it added nothing about negotiating it.

Bolz said the foreign ministers of the Soviet bloc will meet late in the fall—exactly when or where he did not say.

Khrushchev has demanded that peace treaties be signed with East and West Germany. Since the West is firmly against signing a treaty with anything but a reunited Germany, it appeared the projected conference would draw up a treaty, the West would reject it and then Khrushchev would go ahead and sign it before the end of the year, as promised.

As part of the campaign against the West on Berlin, Khrushchev named Marshal Ivan S. Konev, former military commander of the Warsaw Pact, to command Soviet forces drawn up against the West in Germany.

The Communist press made no fuss about the appointment. Neues Deutschland, the official party organ, carried the one-sentence report in bold type, on page one, under a small headline.

Bolz told Parliament Berlin would remain a free city—but under Communist definition this would mean withdrawal of Western garrisons posted against such Communist devices as "spontaneous demonstrations."

With Berlin in Communist hands, East Germany would be virtually sealed off from the West and its people would be unable to flee.

Stoph warned that new measures might be taken to stop the refugee flow, now approaching 150,000 for this year, and he hinted they might be taken even before a peace treaty is signed.

"The generosity of the state organs of the German Democratic Republic over travel has been shamelessly misused by the traders in humans for their dirty aims," Stoph said.

He gave no details but it appeared that some form of ban on travel to Berlin and West Germany is in the works, perhaps a

Ambassador to Russia to Join Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, U.S. envoy to Moscow, joined Kennedy administration consultations today on moves which the United States and its allies may make in the increasingly grave Berlin crisis.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, returning to Washington Thursday night upon the conclusion of Allied strategy talks in Western Europe, brought Thompson with him.

President Kennedy called Rusk to the White House at noon for a report on his meetings with the foreign ministers of Britain, France and West Germany, and the government chiefs of West Germany and Italy—Konrad Adenauer and Amintore Fanfani.

State Department officials said that Thompson came to Washington for consultation for a few days, after which he will return to Europe.

Berlin Issue Brings Same Old Words
By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia and the West keep mulling the same old words over and over in their Berlin dispute like two frustrated hypnotists trying to put each other in a trance.

Since neither listens to the other, neither gets sleepy.

The West demands what it knows Russia won't yield. Russia promises what it knows the West won't buy and can't trust. This can go on for months, and already has.

Russia wants the West out of West Berlin—which lies 110 miles inside Communist East Germany but is loyal to West Germany—and the West replies by demanding the unification of the two Germanies in free and open elections.

Such free and open elections, to choose a single German government, doesn't want since the two Germanies would almost certainly vote for a non-Communist government.

Besides losing so much territory Russia once again would face, on the edge of its satellite world, a single, powerful Germany which, if united with the West as it would be, would destroy the Communist dream of taking over Europe.

It would not only give the West the balance of power in Europe but worse still, from the Communist view, weaken the Soviet grip on the satellites which would have a new incentive and new encouragement to revolt.

Six years ago the Russians, after the first summit conference, went through the motions of considering the reunification of Germany. Now they don't even bother doing that. The other night Premier Khrushchev belittled the whole idea.

Still, the West keeps talking about it, even though there's no chance the Russians will yield. Besides, there are probably millions in the West, remembering the wartime terror of a single Germany, who don't want it unified.

The West has refused to recognize the East German Communists as the legitimate rulers of East Germany. If they did, it would end any dream the non-Communist Germans ever had of seeing their country united again.

In short, recognition would in effect be agreement to the permanent division of Germany. Nevertheless, Khrushchev in turn makes a proposal knowing, even though he keeps repeating it, the West wants no part of it.

This is his proposal: If the West agrees to let West Berlin become a so-called free city, he'll assure the West that the city's links with it—travel and transportation by air and road—will be safe.

How can this be done? He says he'll give the East Germans control over those access routes. But the West insists the East Germans aren't even a government.

Besides, he knows the West knows that even though the East Germans left the access routes open, any time Russia wanted them closed, the East German satellite would close them, knowing beforehand that the Soviets would back them up in any dispute with the West.

There could be no doubt knowing the Communists' publicly stated determination to take over the world, that if the West agreed to Khrushchev's proposition now, it would have to yield more later or face a showdown.

So at this point the Western allies are taking the position that it's better to have a showdown now than later.

All of which adds up to this: After months of talking the West and Russia are not talking reality to each other. They both have expressed willingness to sit down and negotiate. But at their present long-winded rate it will be months before they do.

Meanwhile, they keep exchanging the same old words, making

34 British Students Die in Air Crash
By GUNNAR J. BORREVIK
STAVANGER, Norway (AP) — Thirty-four British schoolboys en route to a holiday in Norway died Wednesday night in a chartered British airliner that crashed and burned on a Norwegian mountainside during a fierce coastal storm.

The other Britons aboard the twin-engine Vickers Viking—Two schoolmasters, two pilots and a stewardess—died with them.

A helicopter pilot sighted the wreckage of the plane at dawn 15 miles from Stavanger, on a mountain in the rugged Ryfylke fjord area of Norway's southwest coast.

The plane hit about 30 feet below the top of the 1,870-foot mountain and apparently exploded on impact. One wing, virtually intact, was hurled 300 yards. The peak. Most of the bodies were scattered nearby, many of them badly mutilated.

The schoolboys, 13 to 16 years old, were all pupils at Lanfranc School in Croydon, a commuter town 12 miles south of London. Their frantic parents besieged London Airport Wednesday night, desperate for word of their children's fate. Their telephone numbers were taken and they were sent home.

Just after dawn a team of telephone operators began the calls that ended their vigil. Policemen also knocked at the doors of the homes, mostly of middle-class families, to tell what had happened.

The excited boys had crowded chattering aboard the Viking, owned by Cunard-Eagle Airlines Wednesday afternoon. Most had saved their pocket money for the week's holiday.

They were to stay in a youth hostel in Stavanger and then in a mountain chalet, hiking in the mountains, fishing for trout, playing badminton and swimming.

It was only a 2½-hour flight to Sola Airport, outside Stavanger, but from off the Norwegian coast the pilot, Capt. Philip Watts, 40, radioed he was fighting gale force winds and slashing rain. It was the last message the Viking sent.

The woman with a voice like shaken silver bells is rare. But most of us could improve our speaking voices if we tried. This girl (left) places a kitchen match between her teeth and tries to speak normally, as if the match weren't there. Another exercise for voice improvement (center) involves reading into a tape recorder before a mirror. Do this nightly. Any restaurant with a large number of women patrons is filled with shrill voices. One immediate remedy (right) is to talk more slowly. When you slow down, your voice gains in warmth and is more attractive.

Husband Doubles on Gifts for Secretary

Dear Helen: I'm not jealous but my husband's treatment of his secretary makes me wonder if I'm losing my perspective. We are a working couple, both in different jobs. My husband has always been fairly generous and, when traveling, brings home little gifts.

My worry is that he brings home the same gifts for his secretary. She is a widow, with a child to raise. He buys her lunch four days a week, gives her three weeks' vacation and its her use of our cabin in the mountains. Recently, she has taken to phoning him at night if she needs advice on a personal problem or wants something fixed. He trots over, like a trained poodle not knowing what his income is I've no way of knowing what he spends on her. We have our children to educate and I feel this should be taken into consideration. Also I feel the secretary is looking for husband number three. Am I wrong?—Once Patient Wife.

Dear Once Patient Wife: As you present the facts, the lady is husband-hunting and, I'm afraid, has the advantage. If you love your man, get busy, as this woman is apparently doing, and make him feel needed. Let him be the full-time breadwinner. Go back to the job you signed up for when you married: Keeping house, rearing children and being a helpmate to your husband. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Marital Harmony."

Dear Helen: I was so embarrassed yesterday I could die! I took a good friend to my mother's for a short visit. Mother had heard me speak often of her but there she sat, tight-lipped and disapproving, looking like one of the characters in a Grant Wood painting.

I've had the same treatment for 35 years and should be used to it, but I'm not. As a little girl, my friends were never welcome in our home; as a teen-ager, during the war, they still weren't welcome; and even now, they are obviously not. It was the same with my brother. We learned that Daddy was the one to whom we could go with our troubles.

I am married now and have five children of my own, two of whom are teen-agers. My home is neat enough and my friends welcome. Mother's was and is a house, not a home; painfully spotless and cold. Father died and she remarried. I believe she wants to be friends. Is it too late? Perhaps I should have phoned her first. But am I, her daughter, supposed to make an appointment to see her? How can my brother and I unlock her heart, wipe that cold look off her face and make her open her arms to us—Imagining Things.

Dear Imagining Things: I had a cousin like your mother who gave her family a hard time of it. We all, including her husband, were convinced that she thought

ALC Ponders $8.5 Million Reserve Fund

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Legislative Council is expected to decide today whether $8.5 million in reserve funds can safely be diverted to construction.

The reserve fund was discussed at length Wednesday as the council neared the end of a lengthy hearing into how $11.7 million in surplus funds should be spent. It heard requests from various agencies and institutions for more than $80 million in building money.

Adding the reserve fund to the surplus would almost double the amount of available cash.

Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsem broached the reserve tapping idea Wednesday, although several council members said it had been being discussed in private for several days.

It might be adopted as a substitute for a proposal by the College Presidents Association to create a $17 million construction fund for colleges by floating a $10 million revenue bond issue tapping the surplus fund for $2 million and allocating another $5 million from the revenue stabilization fund.

The council called Budget Director Julian Hogan and Frank Stirey, secretary of the Board of Finance, Wednesday in an effort to learn whether the reserve fund could be tapped without endangering the state's financial structure.

The reserve fund is set by law at one-twelfth of the state's annual expenditures.

Stirey refused to give a personal opinion on whether the plan was sound but several council members said he left the impression that it would work.

Hogan said the plan would suit him if the Board of Finance would lend money any time he needed cash to keep money flowing smoothly to various state agencies.

The council voted Wednesday to ask Gov. Orval E. Faubus to include two proposed laws in his call to a special session which will act on council recommendations on spending the surplus.

One proposed law would allow Arkansas to receive mental health grants from national foundations and the other would clarify the place for paying filing fees in state and district cases.

William P. Rock, director of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission asked the council to recommend to Faubus that he include in the call a radiation control law and a law to transfer au-

Diplomat, Soldier Dies at Age of 65

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter Redell Smith, soldier, diplomat, int-jawed genius of military planning, died Wednesday night of a heart attack. He was 65.

Death came to the general as an ambulance rushed him to Walter Reed Army Hospital. He had suffered the attack at his home here.

Smith served the government in various posts for 43 years. It honored him as few men in history have been honored—with four distinguished Service medals.

As a soldier, Smith rose from a private in the Indiana National Guard to coordinator of the entire planning of the invasion of North Africa and Normandy in World War II. He was Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief of staff through most of the war, the team becoming known as "Ike and Beetle."

Later, when Eisenhower became President in 1953, the team was revived as Smith became undersecretary of state, second in command and sometime stand-in for Secretary John Foster Dulles.

Between the war and his appointment to be undersecretary, Smith, who described himself as without political leanings or inclinations, served under President Harry S. Truman as ambassador to Moscow. Later, Truman named Smith director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

After leaving government service Smith became vice chairman of American Machine and Foundry Co. and president of AMP Atomic, Inc.

Relieves Invasion
SAINT-PIERRE-MERTE-EGLEST, France (AP)—This village in Normandy today relived for movie cameras the June 6, 1944, D-Day when U.S. paratroopers spearheaded the invasion of German-held France.

Many who lived in the village on the original D-Day watched as the violent fighting was reproduced for the film "The Longest Day," an adaptation of Cornelius Ryan's best seller.

Khrushchev brushed the threat of a super-super-bomb five times more powerful than the average American hydrogen bomb Wednesday night but claimed once more he is a man of peace.

"We do not want war... only lunatics think of a war," the Soviet leader declared.

Khrushchev sounded his bomb warning in an impromptu speech at an otherwise gay reception for the Soviet Union's newest pinup boy—spaceman Gherman Titov.

"Scientists have suggested to the Soviet government that they can create a bomb equal to 100 million tons of TNT—only one bomb," Khrushchev declared.

Unless the prospects for peace improve, the premier continued, he will give the scientists the green light to build the bomb. He added that the Soviet Union could provide a rocket that would send such a big bomb aloft.

Khrushchev disclosed that he had given this warning to President Kennedy's chief disarmament negotiator, John J. McCloy, and to Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani in recent conferences.

Western scientists said a bomb the size Khrushchev described would be easy enough to build but the military effect would not be worth the effort since existing hydrogen bombs are powerful enough to wipe out most cities at one stroke.

Khrushchev, who has boasted that his secret weapon is "my tongue," was alternately gay and grim at the gala Kremlin reception for the Soviet cosmonaut who circled the globe 17 times.

Poking fun at American spacemen, he commented, "nobody but the bolsheviks can reach the cosmos." With a wide grin, he added, "the Americans don't launch spunkies. They jump out and fall in the ocean. We are glad the American flier didn't drown."

The Soviet leader once more declared his determination to sign a peace treaty with East Germany that would give that Communist regime control over Western access to Berlin.

"We believe there will be no war after this treaty," he said. "Only lunatics think of a war after a peace treaty. . . . We are not threatening anybody but if anyone attacks us we will consider it an act of suicide. We will destroy him by counterblows. We

Big Effort by U. S. to Catch Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today the United States is putting maximum effort into space developments in an effort to catch up with the Soviet Union which is "many months ahead of us."

Kennedy said in response to a reporter's question at his news conference that he is satisfied the Russians have put two men into orbit. The reporter had said there is skepticism on the part of some scientists.

The President indicated he does not share this skepticism.

Another reporter asked if Kennedy has given thought to establishing a project similar to the Manhattan Project which developed the atomic bomb, in an effort to speed up space accomplishments.

Kennedy replied that a maximum effort already is going into space developments. He said he has asked Congress for all the money that could be spent without diminishing returns both financially and in terms of the use of personnel.

At this time, Kennedy continued, all that can be usefully employed is being put into this effort.

Kennedy said the United States cannot permit any nation hostile to this country to dominate space. He said, however, he hopes honorable state planning from the Geological and Conservation Commission to the AIDC.

Pulaski Rep. Glenn Walther appeared before the council to recommend creation of a permanent construction fund by amending the revenue stabilization law to provide $4 million a year for that purpose, starting in 1963.

The council Wednesday heard a request from a western Arkansas group for $125,000 to develop Queen Wilhelmina State Park, Ted Woods, director of the Publicity and Parks Commission, asked for a supplemental appropriation of $100,000 to meet increased advertising expenses.

Rusk Reports

He was scheduled to meet with Kennedy at noon.

On his arrival here, Rusk said "we have had very successful consultations" with representatives of Western countries. He added: "I am very much encouraged by the unity and solidarity of our alliance."

Upon his departure from Paris, Rusk had said of his talks with allied leaders: "I think there is agreement there will be negotiations."

At the same time a French spokesman said the De Gaulle government had turned down a U.S. proposal to take the initiative in proposing negotiations to the Soviet Union.

Thus it appeared that the allied strategy discussions which began in Paris at the end of last week had failed to resolve differences on specific steps which may be taken by the Western side as the Berlin crisis develops. However, authorities here insisted that the basic unity of the allies in resisting Soviet pressures against West Berlin was complete and strong.

Apart from the reported difference over possible approaches to East-West negotiations on Berlin, there also appeared to be some uncertainty as to the extent of participation by the Western European allies in building up military forces under the NATO command in Western Europe.

Kennedy told a news conference Thursday that an increase in conventional (non-nuclear) forces was one of the subjects Rusk had talked about with other allied policy makers. But Kennedy thought it was premature to determine whether the allied responses would be completely satisfactory from the U.S. point of view.

The United States has been urging that the allied governments build up to their scheduled strength of 30 divisions—a goal set several years ago but still unfulfilled by about eight divisions.

Rusk met in Europe with the foreign ministers of Britain, France, and West Germany, with Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani and with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. Rusk also received a report on Fanfani's recent talks in Moscow with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

space ship manually, make scientific observations and land his craft on any spot on earth.

Titov told the newsmen he regarded his historic flight round and round the earth as "something natural," that it did not seem like anything extraordinary because he had trained so thoroughly for it.

He said his training as a fighter pilot had been most important in preparing him for his space assignment and that he was morally inspired to carry out his task by love of country and the Soviet people.

Going into a detailed account of his flight from the moment he blasted off at 9 a.m. Aug. 6, Titov said that he experienced no ill effects from the acceleration forces, noise and vibration of the takeoff.

Once in space, he continued, the cabin of his spaceship Vostok II was flooded with sunlight and he could see the bright, sunlit surface of the earth and at the same time the stars—"clear and bright points on a black background."

Both his instruments and information transmitted from earth confirmed that he was in the presence of the earth's magnetic field.

At 10 a.m., an hour after blast-off, Titov said, he switched to manual control of the ship. He said he had complete control over the craft, could orient it in any direction and could send it on any course he desired.

He next used the manual control in his seventh orbit, Titov said.

Throughout the flight "reliable communication with the ground" was maintained on short wave and ultra short wave radio.

Even at his farthest point from earth he established contact with the ground with no difficulty, he said.

He said his radio apparatus also picked up ordinary longwave radio broadcasts from stations all over the world.

Semifinals in Babe Ruth Play

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Malvern, Ark., meets Tulsa, Okla., and Austin, Tex., takes on Fort Smith today in semifinal games in the regional Babe Ruth League baseball tournament.

Thursday, Arkansas champ Malvern beat New Mexico champion Farmington 4-3 and host team Fort Smith beat Louisiana champion Lake Charles 4-0.

Dairiel Obar hurled a four-hitter for Fort Smith and drove in a run with a double in the second inning.

Freddie Spears struck out seven and gave up four hits in the five innings he pitched against Farmington for Malvern. He was the winner.

Malvern broke up a no-hitter by Gayland Fox in the sixth inning, scoring two runs on four consecutive singles to break a 3-2 Farmington lead.

decree that special permits will be required for East Germans. That would enable the police to turn back those without the permits—which undoubtedly would be given only to the politically reliable.

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BERLIN (AP)—Foreign ministers of the Soviet bloc will hold a conference in the late fall to prepare a peace treaty with Germany, East German Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz announced today.

Bolz's announcement to special session of the East German Parliament referred to the treaty with both West and East Germany which Soviet Premier Khrushchev has demanded. Khrushchev has said repeatedly he would sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany if the Western allies do not agree to an all-German treaty.

Bolz said negotiations on the peace treaty are already under way.

East Germany's rubber-stamp Parliament was called into session to study measures to stop the steady flow of refugees from East Germany into West Berlin. In the West fears were voiced further Red repression of the East Germans would result in an explosion.

"The mood in the (East) zone is near boiling point," the independent West Berlin Morgenpost said editorially. "If the safety valve provided by Berlin is shut, it can come to an explosion."

Amid the twin threats of revolt in East Germany and an East-West clash over West Berlin, the Soviet Union sent Marshal Ivan S. Konev, former military commander of the Warsaw Pact and one of the top Soviet soldiers, to command its forces drawn up against the West in Germany.

Bolz said the conference of the East bloc foreign ministers would study the results of negotiations on the peace pact and decide on further measures. He said that negotiations already held had produced results.

Bolz did not say where the conference would be held.

determined orbit, he said.

SUSPENSE

A Short Short Story

WHITE-FACED CHRISTMAS

By CHALMER DELONG WEST
It was Christmas, before dawn. Outside the air was tingling cold. But inside the house it was warm. A tree decorated with tinsel and ornaments glittered with shimmering lights. But there was also drama—

John stood staring at Lucinda. Their tense bodies and drawn faces bespoke the fires of emotion which burned inside their bodies. It was one of the big crises, perhaps the biggest of their lives.

Both of them faced the crisis which had been weeks in the building. They faced it uncertainly. For some moments they stood there, watching each other.

Of all times, things like this should happen.

It was Christmas!

"Wait!" Lucinda half whispered. John stared at her, his lips parted, but he said nothing. Lucinda's eyes took on a pleading look, but John would not wait. His hand sought the gun.

He lifted it, not pointing it directly at her, but she knew that he would.

"Not now—please, John!" she said.

"I've waited long enough," he said. "I've waited and waited and waited."

"So have I," she said, emotion in her voice. "I can prove to you that I've been good." Her eyes still rested on the gun and she seemed to be asking herself—"Is all this real? Can this really happen on Christmas?"

John's eyes too were disbelieving. Like Lucinda, he was asking himself questions he could not answer. But facts could be seen. It was happening. And today.

He was first to move. And at the same time an expression of determination crossed his face.

The gun moved a little. An inch. His finger tightened on the trigger, but he did not pull it. Her hand went first to her stocking, as if searching for something concealed. Then she seemed to think better of it. Her hand moved away. Whatever was hidden—a weapon, perhaps—would remain there.

Now it was Lucinda's turn to break the spell. Her bewildered expression vanished.

In its place came a grimace that was equal to John's. She too was ready to meet the crises at hand.

Seemingly to reach a decision, Lucinda turned suddenly and plunged her slender fingers into the pile of gift wrapped packages at the foot of the Christmas tree.

"Look—look, John!" she said.

Her eyes were moist and pleading as she lifted an object from its box. She held it up for John to see. The thing she held was a child's toy, a doll.

John was unimpressed. He still held the gun, and his finger was still on the trigger.

"John!" she said beseechingly. She tilted the doll it squeaked.

"Ma-ma!"

John said nothing. The gun was pointed at her. There was nothing for him to say. What did he care about a doll that squeaked?

"John," she exclaimed again. "Just look!"

Her eyes were bright, but even as she spoke she knew that John's thoughts were on the gun.

"Who cares about dolls," said John. "Look, Sis! Look at what Santa brought me. A gun that looks almost real!"

Perhaps tastes do differ. Lucinda admitted to herself. But it's probably due to first impressions. She liked her doll.

THE END

Malvern Team Loses in District

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Malvern, Ark., was knocked out of the divisional Little League baseball tournament Thursday night when it lost a 3-0 decision to Lake Charles.

M.F. McCoy tossed a one-hitter at the Arkansans, with a bunt single by David Burns ruling his bid for a no-hitter. Malvern's only other baserunner was via a walk. McCoy struck out nine.

Lake Charles bunched three singles, two errors and a squeeze bunt in the fourth inning for its three runs.

Burns struck out three and gave up six hits.

Ambassadors Meet

TEW DELHI (AP)—U.S. ambassadors from eight South Asian nations opened a three-day meeting today to discuss methods of better meshing American operations in the area.

The meeting is being led by Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles, who came to Tew Delhi from similar meetings of American ambassadors in Africa and the Middle East.

Ambassadors to India, Ceylon, Pakistan, Nepal, Burma, Thailand, Afghanistan and Malaya are attending the New Delhi meeting.

A tree decorated with tinsel and ornaments glittered with shimmering lights.

Eastern Stars Are Favored to Beat West

By WICK TEMPLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Awe-inspiring offensive strength makes the East teams favorites in Saturday's Arkansas high school All-Star basketball and football games.

Star football Coach Gene Hall, speed, size and that extra bit of proven ability. His offensive punch includes quarterbacks Claude Fulton of Little Rock Central, Helena speedsters A Halford and Bill Gray, and line's Kenny Gahr.

East basketball Coach John Terstet boasts Jerry Rook of Jacksonville, Ronnie Bridges of Jacksonville, Bill Knight of Central, Roger Armbrust of Little Rock Catholic and Billy Ray Wood of Hudsonia in his starting lineup.

The basketball game is scheduled for 2 p.m. in Barton Gymnasium. The football game will be at 5 p.m. in War Memorial stadium.

Pure strength could turn the tide for the West in both games. West football Coach Carl Sorrels has a big, tough, fast line led by Jack Powell of Stamps, Gerald Martindale of Texarkana and Benny Steelman of Camden Fairview.

His line is Sorrels' main hope for a victory, especially since he's had some tough breaks with his offense. Quarterback Donnie Lindsey of Camden suffered a chipped bone in his ankle. (Bust East back Clayton McCaskill of Pine Bluff also will be sidelined with an injury.)

The West basketball team has rebounding strength and considerable balance. Sorrels started with seven quarterbacks and has had to move some of them to other positions.

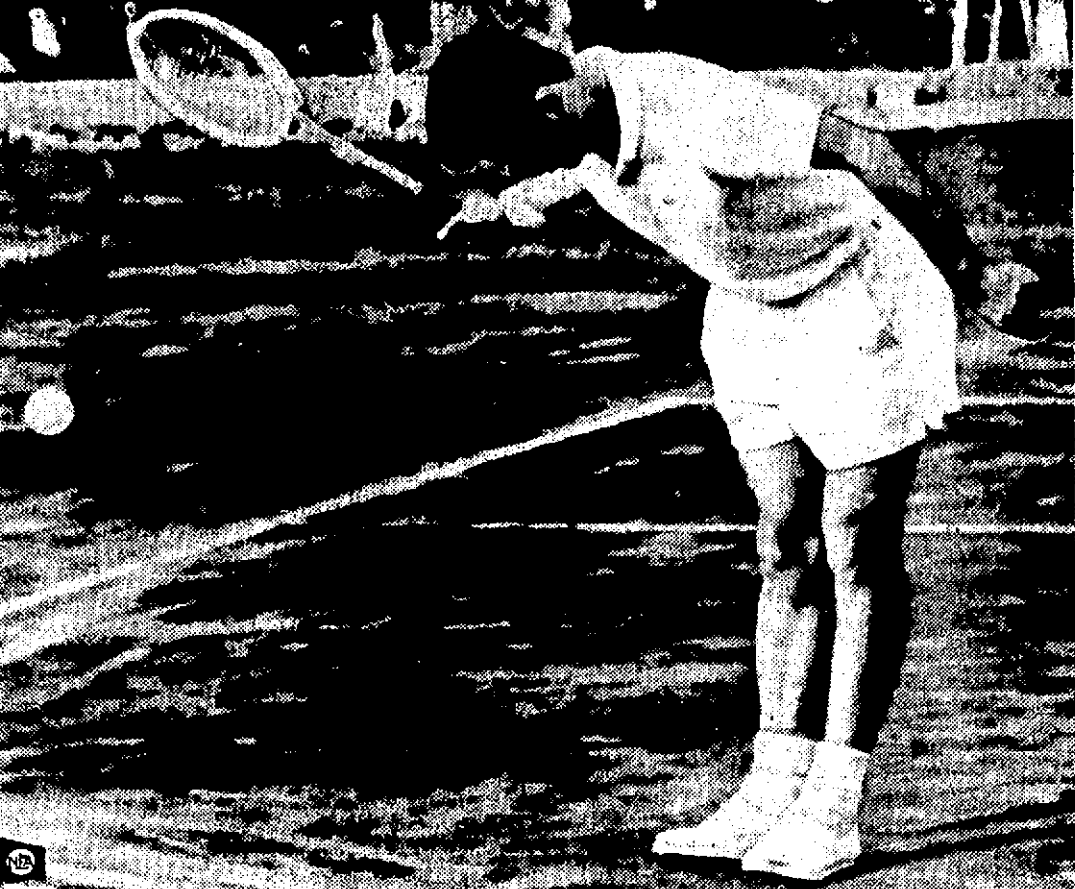

He says his starting lineup still isn't solid. Clifton Travis of England and Gene Anderson of Siloam Springs are battling it for starting quarterback honors with Travis ahead at this writing.

Dickie West of Rogers and Garland Ridenour of Fort Smith are neck and neck for fullback but Sorrels thinks he'll start Ridenour, one of the converted quarterbacks.

Sorrels thinks he has one advantage. "It's easier to get a line ready in one week than it is to get a backfield ready. If the game hinges on the line play, we might be able to stay in there with them."

But he still fears the East's running-passing ability. All four squads held night workouts Thursday, and undergo light practice sessions today.

Arkansas Razorback Coach Frank Broyles will have a 45 percent interest in Saturday night's All-Star football game. Thirty-two of the 70 players who will be on the field have indicated they'll attend Arkansas this fall and be among the candidates for the freshman team.

COURTLY—Antonio Palafox seemingly takes a bow as the ball is returned to him by Francois Godbout in their North American Zone Davis Cup singles match in Quebec City. Palafox is the top-ranked Mexican. The Mexico team defeated the Canadians.

BY THE NUMBERS—This is the toughest time for professional football players drilling and exercising under the hot summer sun. Some of the New York Giants on the Fairfield, Conn., University field don't yet seem to be in quite the condition they'd want to be in.

this one should be slowed down. Although the East has an edge, there's plenty of shooting, rebounding and defensive talent on both sides. If you get to the game, watch Fort Smith's Pitt McGhee for a sample of defensive perfection as only Gayle Kaundant can teach it.

The fact that Pitt will go to Oklahoma State was not surprising to many Grizzards fans. He came to Fort Smith from Oklahoma City a year ago after starring offensively up there. At Fort Smith, he learned just the kind of defense he'll see under Oklahoma State Coach Hank Iba.

If Iba wants to start a farm club, Fort Smith is the ideal place for it. Everybody will get a chance to be a star Saturday. In basketball, the three units divide up the first half with substitution allowed only for injury. The first units play six minutes, then the second and third units play seven minutes each.

In football, the first half is divided into three even periods for purposes of substitution by units. Coaches can substitute at will in the second half of both games.

"I've finally got him on my side," said John Overstreet. He was talking about Jerry Rook, Nettleton's great do-everything man. Rook and Nettleton whipped Overstreet's Manila team two out of three games last year, including once in the playoffs, and Overstreet got mighty tired of looking at that team dynamo.

Now Rook and Overstreet are pooling talents. "He's a fine boy," Overstreet said. "One of the best 6-1 men I've ever seen. His rebounding has improved a lot since he's been down here although his shooting has suffered a bit."

The coach was quick to point out that Rook's shooting was certain to drop off when he joined a team with so many good shooters. Rook is en route to Arkansas State.

Sorrels, in an interview after Thursday night's practice, pointed out some of the headaches of an All-Star coach.

"Half of the job is picking the right team. I spent all summer at that. Two of the boys didn't show up and I had to get substitutions at the last minute. Then I had seven quarterbacks and I had to make them into everything, even ends. I've got Fort Smith's Ray Hodnett, a tackle, playing guard, and that's tough enough. Then I've got to pick three teams out of a bunch of boys that are so good they could play on anybody's ball club."

Ford Captures No. 20, First This Season

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a southpaw's world at the moment in major league baseball. Left-hander Whitely Ford, with his usual help from left-hander Luis Arroyo, has become the first 20-game winner of the season, and tonight left-hander Warren Spahn shoots for a rare 300th victory.

Spahn, pitching in his 17th season at 40, goes for the big one tonight for the Milwaukee Braves against the Chicago Cubs. If the National League's premier left-hander gets it, he'll be only the 13th pitcher ever to win 300 in the majors.

The last to do it was Lefty Grove, in 1941 with the Boston Red Sox. Eddie Plank is the only other southpaw 300-game winner. The other 300-game winners, topped by Cy Young's 511, are Walter Johnson, Christy Mathewson, Grover Cleveland Alexander, Kid Nichols, Jim Galvin, Tim Lincecum, John Clarkson, Mike Welch and Charles Radbourne.

Ford, who has a 153-61 record for 10 years in the majors, won 20 for the first time with a 3-1 decision over the Los Angeles Angels Thursday that kept the New York Yankees three games ahead of second-place Detroit in the American League race.

It was Whitely's 14th consecutive victory, tying the Yankee record set in 1904 by Jack Chesbro. It also marked the 16th time in Ford's 28 starts this season that Arroyo has trudged in from the bullpen.

The Ford-Arroyo combination has become such a ritual that one New York paper, The Mirror, headlined it: "Luis' Ford Wins 20th."

While the Yankees pushed their longest winning streak of the year through eight games, Detroit kept the pace by beating the Chicago White Sox 3-2. Baltimore beat Kansas City 4-0 and Boston defeated Minnesota 3-2 in the other AL games scheduled.

The St. Louis Cardinals won eight in a row for the first time this year with a 3-2 victory over Pittsburgh in the only NL game scheduled.

Ford (20-2), last a loser on June 29 at Boston, allowed eight of the Angels' nine hits before giving way to the heat and Arroyo in the eighth inning. It was the fourth victory Arroyo has saved for Ford, and he has been the finishing pitcher in six others.

Bobby Richardson, Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron homered for the Yankees runs off Jim Donohue (4-5), with Berra's fourth-inning shot breaking a 1-1 tie as the Angels failed to win any of their nine games at Yankee Stadium in the season series.

The Tigers made it eight out of 10 with a three-game sweep at Chicago. A double by Norm Cash and Chico Fernandez' single off Juan Pizarro (7-5) broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth inning. Don Mossi (13-2) was the winner, going all the way although allowing 11 hits. Milt Pappas (8-6) blanked the A's on six hits. He breezed after the Birds scored five runs in the first inning, two on a single by Whitey Herzog, against Bill Kunkel (2-2). Dave Philley of Baltimore set an AL record with his 21st pinch hit of the season, topping the record set in 1936 by Parke Coleman of the St. Louis Browns with 20.

A third-inning double by Frank Malzone wrapped it up for the Red Sox as Tracy Stallard (1-1) won his first in the majors. Al Schvolz (0-2) was the loser. The Cardinals beat the Bucs with an unearned run in the seventh inning on Dick Stuart's error. Haging the loss on Earl Francis (1-1), Ray Sadecki (10-5) was the winner. He gave up eight hits, all singles except one—Bob Clemente's ninth-inning home run.

YOUTH DROWNED

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Clarence Clayton Stone, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thomas Stone of Little Rock, drowned Thursday in an Arkansas River inlet while wading with some other boys with whom he had gone fishing. An uncle, Herman Stone Sr., swam to the spot where the boy disappeared, but could find no trace of him. The body was not recovered.

Nat'l League Chief Fires on Umpire

By HAROLD HARRISON

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Controversial umpire Frank Dascoli was fired Thursday by National League President Warren Giles in an action unprecedented in modern-day major league baseball.

A spokesman for the National League said he could recall no instance of an outright dismissal of an umpire during the season.

Giles said Dascoli's dismissal came about because recent remarks attributed to the umpire "makes his continued employment incompatible with the best interest of our umpiring staff, our office and the league."

Back in 1952 umpire Douglas (Scolty) Robb quit after it was reported he was fined more than $100 by St. Louis Cardinal manager Eddie Stanky and Solly Hemus, then a Cardinal player, after a ruckus over a called third strike on Hemus. Robb later joined the American League.

Hemus also has figured in Dascoli's troubles. Giles made it plain there was no question of Dascoli's integrity or impartiality on the field.

Dascoli was registered at a Cincinnati hotel Thursday night but he declined to give his room number and he could not be located in the usual baseball hangouts in the downtown area.

Dascoli, a resident of Danielson, Conn., joined the National League umpiring staff in 1948. He has been a subject of controversy among players, managers, fans and league officials many times during his tenure.

Several weeks ago he and Hemus, since ousted manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, got into a dispute before a television audience. Hemus called Dascoli "arrogant." Dascoli called Hemus "a buster." Both were reprimanded.

Last week, columnist Murray Olderman of the Newspaper Enterprise Association wrote a story quoting Dascoli as saying "games have gotten completely out of hand because he (Giles) refuses to back us up."

Olderman quoted Dascoli as saying he would quit at the end of this season.

Last weekend, Giles and Dascoli went into another of their many conferences here and a statement was issued in which Dascoli was quoted as saying he denied ever making such statements.

It was learned that Olderman later told Giles' office the name of the restaurant where the conversation took place and gave further details. In New York, Olderman said, "Dascoli made every statement which I attributed to him."

THE BIRMINGHAM BARONS, after showing more muscle against Chattanooga than against any other opponent, were back atop the Southern Association standings today.

The Barons jumped from second place, a half-game back, into a lead of a game and a half by taking a doubleheader from the Lookouts 8-2, 2-0 Thursday night. The twin victory gave Birmingham a sweep of the four-game series and a 15-7 margin over Chattanooga for the season.

The two leaders will not face each other again this season so the Barons will have to try to maintain the momentum they built up against the Lookouts as they face foes they have not had as much success with.

Atlanta stayed within striking distance of the lead with a 6-4 decision over Shreveport while Little Rock downed Mobile 3-1 and Nashville trimmed Macon by an identical 3-1 count.

Howard Kopitzke, the Souther's best bet for a 20-game winner, racked up his 18th victory in the opener for Birmingham by setting the Lookouts down on six hits. He has lost only three. In the nightcap lefty Douglas Galtner allowed Chattanooga only five safeties as he ran his record to 11-8.

Fish Probe Behind Big Reservoirs

Arkansans in Washington

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Those big reservoirs back of the Bull Shoals and Norfork dams in Northern Arkansas will soon be the scene of research to determine why fishing goes sour in the man made lakes a few years after they are completed.

These two reservoirs will be used chiefly because it was at the insistence of Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., that the research project be set up.

Funds for the project were approved by congress in 1961 after Fulbright had tried vainly for several years to get the money. He originally got $170,000 added to Interior Department appropriations bill but finally had to settle for half, or $85,000.

Rep. James W. Trimble, D-Ark., who has wholeheartedly endorsed the project, said preliminary studies show that the fishing dies down after about seven years. The theory, he said, is that predatory fish take over the upper levels of the lakes after that time, driving bass and other game fish to lower levels.

The problem, he said, will be to determine what can be done to get rid of the predators and allow the bass to rise again.

Findings will be of importance to scores of similar big reservoirs throughout the country.

The Interior Department appropriation bill, signed by President Kennedy a week ago, also has several other appropriations of importance to Arkansans.

For instance it includes $170,000 to enlarge the Norfolk fish hatchery and $170,000 to build a similar hatchery at the new Greers Ferry reservoir. These two hatcheries are to be used generally to stock trout for the streams below the dams.

Cold water released from the big dams discourages the warm water bass, native to the Arkansas rivers, so the hatcheries produce cold water trout to stock these streams.

Also in the bill is $65,000 for further research into marketing fish produced by fish farmers in the rice area around Stuttgart.

The new Pea Ridge and Arkansas Post national monuments also are included in the bill. Pea Ridge is down for $1,000,000, included and $185,000 for roads.

Arkansas Post, set up only last year, is down for $18,300.

The bill also carries operating funds for the Crossett and Harlan forestry facilities and for the Ozark and Ouachita national forests. A special $50,000 item for expanded research facilities at Crossett also is included.

Another big appropriation bill in which Arkansas is interested—the public works appropriation bill—hasn't yet moved out of the House Appropriations subcommittee. This bill carries funds for the major water projects in Arkansas and elsewhere.

While no one will admit it, the suspicion is that this bill—carrying as it does, something for everybody—is deliberately being held up by the leadership for pressure purposes.

With this bill still lagging, the leadership can use it to obtain support for other measures.
